

CIRCUIT ARRANGEMENT

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

In an up-converter feed forward control of the output current is effected by rendering the conduction time of the switching element proportional to $V_{\text{out}}/V_{\text{in}}^2$. This control is fast and avoids interference and loss of efficiency.